

Resume of War Tells of Hard Fighting; Bulgaria Joins Central Powers

During the last few weeks the whole world has been as deeply interested in the Franco-British offensive in Flanders and in the invasion of west Russia by Austro-German armies that it is rather astounding to learn how that after the achievements of the Serbians in driving the Austrians three times over the Drina and Danube at fearful cost to the invaders, the Serbians, reinforced by French and British armies, are again forced to defend their mountain territory obstinately and perhaps successfully against the new peril in the north and the menace in the east. The fighting now going on at the Drina and Danube crossings is preliminary, and on the part of the Serbians carried on by rear guards. It is in the mountains of the interior that the battle for the possession of the railway junction of Nish will be fought.

Bulgaria has definitely cast her lot with the Central Powers, and must now fight five nations, Great Britain, France, Russia, Serbia and, last but not least, Italy. The outcome of Bulgaria's latest move will be watched with great interest as a result of the landing of Allied troops at Saloniki, and the subsequent capture of one important Bulgarian town by the Allies. It is obvious that from the west the Allies will conduct their campaign in such a manner that the Turks will be forced to spread their troops out over a 100 mile front instead of having them concentrated as at present, and the Bulgars may ultimately be swept eastward into the Black Sea.

In the west there is little activity, although the Germans have made several half-hearted attempts to re-take the positions lost at Loos and Souchez.

The outbreak of Lord Milner concerning the operations in the Dardanelles, which he declares have been a failure, has renewed the agitation started by the Northcliffe press. In declaring that the terrible loss of life sustained in the Dardanelles did not justify further activity on the part of the British there, Lord Milner has stirred up a hornet's nest, which parliament cannot easily disregard.

The recall of General Ian Hamilton and resignation of Sir Edward Carson is the latest bombshell to be exploded in parliamentary and military circles. The former is returning to London to make a report on the Dardanelles operations, and the latter, always a fire-eater, has had further differences with fellow-members over conscription.

COUNCILLORS TAKE ACTION TO REDUCE OUTBREAK OF FIRE

To reduce to the least possible minimum the outbreak of serious fires within the town limits of Wainwright, councillors at their meeting last night approved of the recommendation of the Fire, Water and Light committee, which calls for the immediate removal or the protection in accordance with by-law No. 29 of all haystacks within the town's confines. The recommendation was submitted through Councillor Washburn. It will cause an immediate inspection to be made by the fire inspector. In addition to this, notice of motion was also made that at the next regular meeting, section 10 of bylaw 29 be so amended as to include block 1 to 99. The motion that will be introduced will cause every householder in town to provide and use a suitable ash-can. This will be as a further precaution against fire.

Accounts due for payment amounting to $6,000 including notes and interest and a sum of $1,430 to the school board, were authorized by council last night.

Tobacco addressed to any of the boys, care of the Army Post Office London will reach its destination.

The last meeting of the Wainwright Home Guard to be held in the skating rink during the present season was conducted on Friday evening of last week. ## DEBATE DECIDES IN FAVOR GOVERNMENT OWNED RAILWAYS

Tuesday evening last, the Literary, Social and Debating club of St. Andrew's church listened to a very interesting debate on the resolution "That Government Ownership and Operation of Railroads would be in the best interests of the Dominion." The affirmative was taken by Messrs W. S. Brodie and W. S. Johnston and the negative by Messrs R. B. Bryden and F. Scott. The debate was fairly well contested, many strong arguments being presented on both sides. The affirmative, however, showing the great weaknesses of the present system in Canada and the superior advantages of Government Ownership and Operation, came out victorious. The judges were Messrs A. Crawford, H. P. May and Dr. McQueen.

Bridge Across Narrows Of Baxter Lake To Be Erected; Lumber Here

Acting on the recommendation of the local Liberal Association and the particular activity along the line by G. H. Beaudry, its secretary, arrangements have been made by the provincial department of public works to construct the much needed bridge across the narrows of Baxter Lake.

Blue prints for the structure have already been received and lumber for the preliminary work is now in Wainwright. It is said that the only impediment in the way of immediate operations is brought about by the fact that all arrangements have not yet been completed in connection with the right-of-way for the approaches.

During the week-end, members of the local Board of Trade made a trip for the purpose of obtaining signatures in this regard. Owing to the absence of some of those interested, however, all names could not be

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

I desire to thank you for the able and timely article which appeared in your last week's issue, upon the subject of making preparation for the return of our soldier boys from the war. I am quite confident that your endorsement of the appeal put forward by the S.O.E. will be enthusiastically received.

A few short months ago we sent them off in the full vigor of their young manhood to fight our battles, and they are already in the firing line. Many of them, it may be, will lay down their lives for the right cause, and some will return to us more or less disabled and incapacitated from following their usual avocations.

Already in this country 2000 of our Canadian soldiers have come home in this condition. Some are maimed, some permanently weak, some are blind, and many have families dependent upon them. Should our own boys come back to us in such condition doubtless we will accord them a hearty demonstration of welcome, but they should have something more than the waving of flags and martial music.

I trust that we shall all most heartily and promptly support the proposal of the S. O. E. for the establishment of a fund for placing our gallant lads beyond the reach of want. Their self-sacrifice for their King and our beloved land demands our best return. Let us give it them. Yours H. Assiter.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Kinghorn of Leeds, Quebec, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Church.

R. Lowes And Newport Boys Join 49th Ranks

In such away reads a paragraph of a letter dated Sept. 23rd received by the Star from Norman E. Cook, of the 49th Battalion then stationed at Shorncliffe. In regard to the three boys the letter states that at the time of writing they were doing their target shooting and that upon the completion of this shooting course, the whole 49th battalion expects to leave for France.

The letter further reads: "We expected to be away a fortnight had. The present proposal is that as soon as these signatures are acquired, that work be commenced immediately.

The bridge will be some two hundred feet in length and the operation will be of convenience to farmers resident on the other side of the narrows, who at the present time and owing to the absence of the bridge, have to travel many additional miles in order to come to town.

MISS RETA ROSS DIES IN EDMONTON FROM HEART FAILURE

News that his 30 year old daughter Reta was dead in the Strathcona hospital, was received by Mr. P. E. Ross this afternoon. Suffering from heart trouble, Miss Reta was taken to Edmonton several weeks ago and right up until yesterday hope was held for her recovery, in fact she was in such good spirits on Monday that she wrote a letter to her father. Miss Ross died at 1:30 to day. Mr. Ross left for Edmonton this afternoon.

Sorrow in their sad bereavement will be expressed to the father and mother and the remaining sisters and brother. The blow to them is indeed a painful one. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

The preceding is part of a letter received from Fraser M. Gerrie, one of the University boys who were recently entertained here while on their way east.

Business Men for the Bridging of the Gulf Between the Town People and the Farmer

Mr. J. R. Moorhead, the Banker-Farmer. There are two classes of people living in our smaller cities and villages as live in our fifty thousand towns. The town people smaller population living in these smaller cities and towns is just twice as much as the population of the country that would lead one to believe. The town people of the country to be fed by the producers on the farm are to be found in the great cities and towns. The town people seems now, more than ever, the one great thing talked about, and to be the farmer's largest and best market, right at his door. The farmer in this produce every working day in the year and sell it to the consumer in the city. The farmer is a middleman, middleman whatsoever, and secure therefore every cent without any profit at all. The farmer is the one who said: "If you spend your money where you get it, you will be able to get the most for it."
The second great movement that should be inaugurated by the bankers and the farmers is the movement of the pull which exists between the people and the farmer. It might be said that the farmer is the one who in ten thousand in this country have this gift made "vicer," but no more than the farmer is the one who has some living in towns, who have the farmer's goods. The farmer is a bluffer and a liar, and the the local banker is no less guilty or more so. The farmer is the one who cities. Thousands of them are not even alive: the home merchants are the ones who are the ones who are the stock in and quality in every to in farm land value, for the better and the worse. The farmer's head is turned to the land because of its proximity to the town; it means less deposits in the bank, it means less money to be loaned to the town; it means less money to lend to the farmer and to the business man; it means the farmer is not getting the best of the town. It means that the boy is not going to stay on the farm unless the town is a success. It means that the economic ruin to many of our best interests. It means increased problems of handling our social and political problems in our great cities; it means that the farmer is not getting every dollar in the great center; it means that the farmer is not getting in this country, which, the banker has brought together, and in the end the farmer is not getting the best of the world work wonders for the good of all. I refer to the bankers and the farmers, and the press and the country paper.

The movement inaugurated by the bankers and the country paper, and other interests in the upbuilding and increasing of efficiency of the farm, is a movement that is not going to succeed at the expense of the millions of people and particularly the millions of people in the towns and smaller cities. They are vitally interested and should become cannot hope to accomplish this increase by in any way crippling that

First of all it needs team work, co-operation, first amongst bankers, and then business men, and co-operation between the farming communities about us. There are too many bankers and business men in these towns who are disloyal to each other—a lack of confidence exists. Competition and business rivalry have tended to make the small farmer a victim of the big co-workers. The local drygoods man cannot supply the necessities of the family because his stock is not fine enough, hence they trade elsewhere or visit the commercial center. Let me remind such a one that, "a town that is good enough to live in is good enough to prosper in." If you make it your money where you can get it, you will prosper. If you cannot get it in your town and you ought to move. The lumberman and the farmer are the backbone of the country. They are just as often guilty of the same practice, and then they wonder why the farmer is impoverished and their business prosper. What inducement, let me ask, for the lumberman to stock goods fine enough for the bank-rupt farmer? None. He is a hard-ware merchant's family. None whatever. This, being often the case, how can the farmer prosper? He has no obligations he holds, to meet his obligations there is taking away from his pocket. He is thereby not able to meet them—his profits on goods are small.

The whole question is summed up in and stated in the following from one of the country newspapers in this state, when pared for shipment, largely as a result of the joint effort of the Dominion and the United States governments, and the lumber industry by sending abroad Mr. H. R. MacMillan as special lumber agent. Mr. MacMillan is now accepting a position under the Dominion government, was chief forester for the United States, and is now on his way to South Africa and it is believed that further attempts to export lumber will not follow.

Of the 25,000,000 feet ordered, 10,000,000 feet is now on the water, and the other 15,000,000 is being loaded, and orders for 8,500,000 remain to be filled.

It is expected that the heavy export orders from Great Britain are an interview, Hon. W. R. Ross, minister of the interior, has said that in Mr. MacMillan's mission, points out that the orders from Great Britain are for 75 per cent of the lumber.

The lumber is being cut by the oilons at the corner of Burrard and Oilons roads, and has disposed of by the oilons to the coasters, and to harvest it during the coming week.

Sown in April, the oilons are now of the size of a small tree, and are one-half the size of the trees which were sown in the Victoria area.

the entire export trade done last year. It will bring about $250,000 in new capital to the province.

The lumber industry of British Columbia last year expended about $34,000,000 of which $12,000,000 was expended direct to the workers in the form of wages and $22,000,000 to merchants in supplies and about $13,000,000 was expended in transportation charges.

Its revenue by way of tonnage is about $3,000,000.

An important feature of Mr. Macdonald's plan is the provision of ships to transport the lumber required for admiralty contracts at a cost of 10 cents per tonnage is an important problem.

A man out west, who married a widow, has invented a device to cure her of eternally praising her former husband. He has written a will to be read to her at her death, and to descend on his noble qualities, thus ingenuously to cure her. "Poor old man," how I wish he had not died!

CANADA TO SELL AND LOAN INSTEAD OF BUY AND BORROW

CANADA'S CROP THIS YEAR can have but one effect and that of stimulating business conditions as they have never been stimulated before. This year will see Canada launch out with more self reliance than has been her fortune during her short producing history and no matter in how many ways Canada has received detrimental effects as a result of the war, this much is sure—that the strife in Europe has worked wonders for Canada for it has made Canadians think of what Canada is, what she has been, what she will be. It has made the people of Canada look to their own laurels, has made them produce for themselves instead of borrowing or buying of other's productions. In a few words it has made Canadians think deeply and well not of what they can buy or borrow from other nations but of what they can sell or loan to other nations.

To return to Canada's crop, we find that the war and the weather resulted in Canada producing this year a total wheat crop of no less than 336,258,000 bushels. This total as compared with last year's yield is greater by the extraordinary amount of 174,978,000 bushels over last year's inferior yield of 161,280,000 bushels. Thus the wheat crop this year is more than double that of 1914.

It is 104,541,000 bushels, or 45 per cent. in excess of the previous highest yield of 231,717,000 bushels in 1913, and 140,232,000 bushels or 72 per cent. in excess of the annual average yield of 106,026,000 bushels for the five years 1910 to 1914. Of oats the revised total yield is 481,035,500 bushels from 11,365,000 acres, an average per cent. of 42.33 bushels. Barley comes out at 50,988,000 bushels from 1,500,350 acres, an average per acre of 33.70 bushels, rye is now 2,478,500 bushels from 112,300 acres, or 22.07 bushels per acre, and flaxseed 12,004,700 bushels from 1,000,000 acres, or 12.48 bushels per acre.

In the three northwest provinces the estimated yield of wheat is 304,200,000 bushels, and of oats 305,680,000 bushels. The remaining grain crops of Canada, whose yields are now reported on for the first time this year, are as follows: Peas, 3,240,400 bushels from 106,210 acres, an average of 16.52 bushels per acre; beans, 594,000 bushels, 43,310 acres, 13.71 bushels per acre; buckwheat, 8,101,000 bushels, 343,800 acres, 73.56 bushels per acre; mixed grains, 17,128,500 bushels, 406,800 acres, 30.69 bushels per acre; corn for husking, 14,694,000 bushels, 253,300 acres, 57.62 bushels per acre.

These extraordinary figures of greater production are figures that have come as a consequence of the war. They come as a result of the wise advocacy at the beginning of the year for greater patriotism and greater production and the effect their returns will have can only mean more self reliance, more money and more business for Canada. There will be markets for the record crops and while the prices might not reach the high standard of last year, they will be fairly reasonable for the farmer whose position will be so much better as a result of greater production.

THE BABY KILLERS AT WORK AND THE NEED OF REPRISAL

THE LATEST ZEPPELIN RAID on London resulted in the murder of fifty five more civilians, many of whom were women and children. We read of the atrocity here with pent-up anger and there is no reason in the world why we should wonder that British officials do not come to the realization of the necessity for retaliation. Surely but few more of these dastardly affairs will bring those in authority to seek a reprisal.

German "frightfulness" has come to such a pass that the devil must be fought with his own weapons. Britain has endeavored to keep her honor and to play fair long enough. Why should we continually allow our women and children to be murdered in the manner that the Germans have followed almost since the war began? We stood for the murder of our men, women and children on the Lusitania, on the Arabic, on our fishing vessels, at Hartlepool. God knows our people have stood pain and anguish aplenty.

France realised the necessity of retaliation long ago and whether her prompt reprisals on German cities have taught the Hun the price of his "frightfulness" or not, the fact remains that French cities have been almost immune from Zeppelin raids for many months.

Whether or not those in authority will sanction serial attacks of undefended German towns is a question to be doubted but the fact remains that the public opinion is veering for some form of reprisal. The maintenance of honor is a great thing but why should honor be maintained with such a ruthless foe—a foe that places so little value on the lives of women and children that to murder them is almost an every day occurrence? Can honor reasonably be maintained with such a foe at such a cost?

The people in Great Britain are deciding the question now and public sentiment will force some action before very long. Our aerial fleet must get to work. Something must be done and with the least delay possible to bring the fiendish Hun—the baby killer—to the realization that too many of our women and our babies have already been murdered at his hands; that his murder has got to stop.

According to report, five thousand Belgians have been shot by the Germans since the war brought Belgium under German rule. Which shows that though this brave people have momentarily been made a subject race of the Hun power, they are by no means conquered.

Calgary Herald: What is worrying a lot of anxious men at Sarcee Camp is the question: Why, if more men are needed and recruiting is not filling the ranks as it should, the authorities in Britain do not send a hurry call for the thousands in Canadian camps, who are weary with inaction and anxious to get a step nearer the front.

IRMA IS PROSPEROUS; DISTRICT RAISES SPLENDID YIELDS OF GRAIN

It takes but a visit to convince a person that Irma is flourishing. One has only to mingle with the townspeople, to talk with them to be convinced of the fact. Information can be obtained on every hand which lucidly tells that Irma, surrounded by a splendid farming community, is billed for residence at a higher number along the avenue of prosperity.
Building operations are progressing in many sections and the activity along the line of construction is clearly evidenced by the big, steady importation of that material necessary for the raising of stores, residences, and the like.

Yes, Irma is going ahead.
Business men say it is prospering and only upon the increase in commercial activity do they base their statements. C. S. Swales is satisfied to give up his Edmonton field of endeavor and re-commence business operations in Irma. And the only reason he is doing this is because he is satisfied in his own mind that Irma offers for him a field of bigger and better opportunities than were provided in the capital. Mr. Swales was a pioneer resident of Irma.
In fact, he was one of the first to turn soil for the erection of a store following the inauguration of the town. He left two years ago to open up business in Edmonton but he now returns and at the present time is constructing a store on Main street wherein to conduct a general business along the same lines as those followed in the past.

Manager Love of the Irma Co-operative Company reports good business and remarks of a similar effect were voiced by A.
A. Dickson, also an Irma storekeeper. Both were enthusiastic as to present possibilities and were even more enthused as regards those to be opened up immediately following the marketing of this year's excellent crop.

Rev. H. Arthur Barton will give one of his entertaining lectures at the church anniversary services to be held on Monday evening, October 25th.
The lecture will be preceded by chicken supper.

Mr. Walford, who sold out his business in Peace River and joined the Army Medical corps and was later honorably discharged on account of defective hearing, has taken up business in Irma and is now operating the drug store on Main street.

C. P. R., engineers were in Irma last week laying out

Threshing accidents have been common in Irma recently and the latest misfortune was that befalling H. R. Barsa who lost part of his hand on Thursday morning while working with the Coal Springs Threshing Outfit. Mr. Barsa caught his hand in the sprocket wheel of the machine and suffered a nasty injury.

Jack Burton, the 9 year old son of W. A. Burton, died on Thursday last week, interment taking place at the Irma cemetery on Friday.

Miss Louise Trowatha was a visitor to Wainwright during the week-end.

GEN. SIR IAN HAMILTON—Commander of the British forces at the Dardanelles, who it is reported is inspecting the landing of allied troops there. He may be given charge of the expedition.

In regard to crop conditions, it was freely stated that the present season has seen Irma enjoy excellent agricultural conditions with the result that crops of an exceptionally heavy yield have been produced at all points within the Irma district.
Fifty-six bushels of wheat to the acre were produced by A.
Oldham, a resident north of town, while many other farmers have threshed as many as fifty bushels. Oats have also been exceptionally heavy in their yields and an average of 107 bushels is no exception to the general rule. J. B. Gulbrow is a farmer of the Irma district who has averaged a little more than 40 bushels of wheat to the acre from 85 straight acres.

To use the words of Postmaster Armstrong, the year has been a glorious one and the expectations of the farmers of Irma have been even more than realized. Yields have been better than farmers had hoped for or figured on with the result that an impetus will be given to business the like of which has seldom been enjoyed before. Grain is already on the move and although it has little more than started, many farmers not yet having completed threshing, quite a number of car loads of grain have left the tracks.

And while threshing is in progress in some districts, plowing operations are the order of the day in others, all farmers wishing to get as much land in readiness for next year as is reasonably possible. The raising of grain, however, is not the only ideal of the Irma farmer. Many have entered into diversified agricultural pursuits, for the Irma district stands unexcelled in its opportunities for successful mixed farming. And each succeeding year is finding additional stock placed on the Irma acreages with the result that time will see Irma a mixed farming centre of no mean proportion.

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Mac-tosh, Saskatchewan and Alberta, and the Yukon territory, the North-west Territories and in a portion of the province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,000 acres will be leased to one applicant.
Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be exscribed by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents or less.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not operated, such returns shall be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining right only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub Agent of the Dominion.

SUNDAY SERVICES IN LOCAL CHURCHES

At St. Thomas' church on Sunday evening, Rev. H. Aseltier will preach upon the subject: "A World Without a Night". A solo will be sung by Mrs. F. Lush entitled: "There Shall be no Night There". Sunday school will be held in the church at 11 o'clock.

The usual evening service will not be held at St. Andrews Presbyterian church next Sunday. This will give the Presbyterian people an opportunity of attending the anniversary service in the Methodist church. The usual morning service, however, will be held when the pastor will preach on the subject "The Common Place Things of Life". There will also be the usual story-sermon for the children. The Sunday school and Bible class will meet in the afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Anniversary services will be held at Grace Methodist church on Sunday when the preacher of the day will be Rev. W. A. Lewis of Edmonton. Mr. Lewis was last year president of the conference and at the present time is chairman of the West Edmonton district. He is an able and effective speaker and his messages will be listened to with much interest.

The choir under the direction of the leader Mrs. Clark and with the assistance of the organist, Miss Yeager, will render special music. At the morning service, the anthem will be: "I'm a Pilgrim and I'm a Stranger". Miss Isted will also sing a solo. At the evening service, Rev. R. K. Swenerton will sing "Hold Thou My Hand", and the choir will render the anthem, "Hark, Hark My Soul". In the afternoon there will be a rally of the Sunday school when special songs will be sung by the children. An address will also be delivered by Mr. Lewis.

W. J. McLean, of Castor, formerly principal of Wainwright schools, has been a visitor in town during the past few days. While here Mr. McLean took advantage of the shooting opportunities and is reported to have been favored with good bags.

Sligo

The regular monthly meeting of the W. A. was held at the home of Mrs. Joseph Taylor on Thursday Oct. 14th. In connection with Miss Reid's meeting to be held on Thursday evening Oct. 21st in the Sligo school-house it was decided that a short program be rendered in addition to Miss Reid's lecture; also that a lunch be served by the ladies. A collection will also be taken in aid of the Red Cross Fund. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Guthrie on Thursday, Nov. 11th.

Mrs. Hubert Griffith and children of Hyde Park, Man., are visiting at the home of the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Taylor.
